

Train Ticket Vending Machine now on Campus

The University is pleased to announce that you can now avoid the queues at University Station and purchase your train tickets and collect pre-booked train tickets on Campus. The University has worked in partnership with London Midland to have a train ticket vending machine installed on campus to reduce the congestion at the Station for purchasing tickets. Please note that to collect pre-booked tickets you will need your unique booking reference number and the credit card that you used to purchase the tickets.

The machine is located in University Centre, near the photograph booth between the food court and Spar, you can access this building at the following times:
