Client: Postgraduate Recruitment

The brief

The Postgraduate Recruitment team wanted some high-quality headshots of their staff members with an iconic University backdrop.

Our response

We arranged for the photo shoot to take place in the Aston Webb Rotunda. The backdrop provided a stunning visual background and our photographer put the subjects at ease to create a suite of relaxed, natural images that the client was incredibly happy with.

Client: College of Engineering and Physical Sciences

The College of Engineering and Physical Sciences team wanted some group photographs taken at their Christmas party in a graduation style.

Our response

Despite the brief changing before the day of the shoot, we worked hard to create a fun and relaxed shoot that delivered a range of group photos in challenging conditions that the client was very pleased with – especially as we avoided having to use an external photographer.
