Black History Month 2013

For the third year in a row, the University will celebrate Black History Month as part of the Cultural Engagement Initiative. Working in partnership with The Drum, the month-long events will feature important figures from around the UK and the USA including Dr. Julius Garvey, son of famed Civil Rights leader, Marcus Garvey; celebrated playwright David Edgar; and acclaimed National Gallery lecturer, Leslie Primo. Many of the events are free and open to the public. These events will be forming part of the University's focus on equality and inclusion in employment, a key area for the next academic session. The full Black History Month Programme is on the University website.

Welcome 2013: 21–27 September

Staff from across the University have been working hard to complete planning for Welcome 2013. Events include the introduction of Parents' Welcome Addresses, a Wellbeing Fair, Welcome Hubs supporting students with Registration, ID Cards and visa checks, and new Library Services workshops. The Welcome Timetable contains key information for our new students about induction and events and activities happening across campus during Welcome. Detailed staff resources including toolkits, Welcome pack content, and Welcome branding are available on the intranet. If you have any questions, please contact Kelly Hamilton, Assistant Director, Student Services.

Honorary Degrees – nominations open

Do you know someone who has made a major contribution to academic, regional or national life? Have you considered nominating them for an honorary degree of the University? Recent honorary graduates include the stand-up comedian, writer and actor, Chris Addison, the Director-General of the BBC, Tony Hall, and Kitty Hart-Moxon, Polish-English Holocaust survivor. Nominations can be made by any University employee, student, alumnus, member of honorary staff, or lay member of Court or Council. The next deadline for nominations is 24 September 2013. To find out more visit the website, or contact Laura Ewers.

Chancellor receives Leadership award

Congratulations to the University's Chancellor, Sir Dominic Cadbury, who has been awarded the CASE Europe Leadership Award 2013. The Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE) is a not-for-profit association serving over 3,000 educational institutions worldwide. The Leadership Award recognises sector leaders for their outstanding efforts in promoting and supporting education. The judges commended Sir Dominic's dedicated involvement in all areas of advancement at the University.

New Dental Hospital and School of Dentistry

Work will begin at the former home of BBC Pebble Mill studios this month to build the new Birmingham Dental Hospital and School of Dentistry. The new facility will be the first integrated, stand-alone dental hospital and dental school to be built in the UK for almost 40 years. It is expected to take around two years to build, and is anticipated to open to staff, students and the public in 2015. Look out for further details on campus developments in the October/November edition of buzz magazine.

University celebrates decade of Fair Trade

Congratulations to all staff in Hospitality and Accommodation Services (HAS) who have maintained their Fair Trade status, awarded by the Fair Trade foundation, for the 10th year running. The status was awarded for the University's continued use, and promotion of Fair Trade products and services across HAS outlets. Fair Trade is also strongly supported by students, and the initiative and first submission to the Foundation was completed by two of our students. Further details are on the venuebirmingham website.

Great Read at Birmingham (GRAB)

Almost 600 copies of this year's GRAB book, The Incredible Human Journey by Alice Roberts, have been distributed to academic and professional staff working with incoming undergraduates, and is being incorporated into a number of Welcome and induction activities. To celebrate the launch of GRAB 2013 Library Services is giving students the chance to win an iPad, by sharing a photo of their own 'Incredible Human Journey' to the University @UoBLibServices, or on the UoB Library Services Facebook page with #UoBGRAB before 11 October. Further events are planned for later in the year, with a GRAB-themed Book quiz and book-crossing event on 29 October, a seminar in the Lapworth museum, a large-scale conference and much more. Visit the University website for details.

Student Skills Zone

The Careers Network in partnership with colleagues across the University (Academic Skills Centre, the International Student Advisory Service, Birmingham Study Abroad, Student Library Subject Advisors and the Centre for Entrepreneurship and Innovation) are launching a new online resource for all students to help develop their skills. Students can access any of the four zones via a single login: Academic Skills, Professional Skills, Entrepreneurial Skills, and Global Skills. For further information contact Joan Cartledge.

Research success

The University is now a top 40 participant in the European Research Framework Programme, according to the latest European Commission FP7 monitoring report. The University ranked 39th overall and 24th for HE organisations, in terms of number of projects, out of the thousands of organisations taking part. This is a great increase on previous rankings of 62nd overall and 37th for HE organisations. If you have any questions about EU funding, contact the EU Funding Support Team in Research and Innovation Services.

Bookcrossing comes to Birmingham

Are you having a clear out of books? Do you have books that you've really enjoyed and would like to share with others? We are looking for donations of books to help promote bookcrossing at the University in connection with Welcome and Book to the Future activities. Bookcrossing is when books are left at established locations or 'in the wild' (on a bench or a bus) for someone to find. You log the books online and attach the label provided; When 'found', books can be tracked on the website. For information on how to get involved please contact Helen Murray.

Green Bike project launch
