Student Representation System Policy

1. Introduction

- 1.1 The Student Representation System (SRS) is a partnership between the University of Birmingham and the Guild of Students. The aim of the SRS is to ensure that every student and postgraduate researcher at Birmingham is effectively represented to the University and the Guild of Students by a fellow student or postgraduate researcher. It is founded on the belief that through effective representation students and postgraduate researchers become partners in their education, allowing a more active involvement in, and ownership of, their learning / research.
- 1.2 The document comprises a set of essential precepts for student and postgraduate researcher representation across the University which should be adhered to by all parties to ensure that the SRS is run effectively throughout the University and is founded on effective practice. The parties are; the University of Birmingham, the Guild of Students, and all registered students and postgraduate researchers at the University of Birmingham. In this Code of Practice “Student Representative” encompasses undergraduate and postgraduate taught students who represent their peers, and “PGR Representative” encompasses Postgraduate Registered Students undertaking a research degree programme who represent their peers.
- Students studying at the University’s overseas campuses will be able to access the appropriate local student representation system.

2. Purpose of the Student Representation System

- 2.1 To engage students and postgraduate researchers as partners in their educational experience.
- 2.2 To enable students and postgraduate researchers, on behalf of their peer group, to raise issues of a learning and teaching nature, and work with staff to resolve problems.
- 2.3 To ensure student and postgraduate researcher voices are an effective part of University decision making structures at all levels
- 2.4 To ensure student and postgraduate researcher feedback is received, acted upon and reported back to the student body.
- 2.5 To engage students and postgraduate researchers to discuss learning and teaching issues through a representative on School, College, and University Committees

3. Representation within the University Structure

- 3.1 Student, postgraduate researcher and staff interactions occur through Staff Student Forums (SSFs) and College Student Rep Forums, and student and postgraduate researcher representation on relevant internal committees at all levels: University, College and School / Department, including the relevant education, programme approval, and quality assurance committees

- 3.2 Students and postgraduate researchers should be represented on relevant institutional committees, as agreed between the Guild of Students and the University.
 - 3.3 Representation structures need to have a clear linear path to feed information up and down throughout the University.
 - 3.4 Effective practice should be shared throughout the University.
 - 3.5 Information relating to the SRS which outlines how the SRS functions across the University will be reviewed by the Student Representation System Advisory Board (SRSAB) at regular intervals.
 - 3.6 The SRSAB will report into the University's academic quality assurance and enhancement processes.
 - 3.7 The SRS will inform the Guild of Students work with respect to academic representation.
 - 3.8 Student Representatives and PGR Representatives will be full members of the boards and committees on which they represent their peers at the relevant institutional levels.
 - 3.9 The SRS structure is a tiered system of representation, ensuring effective representation at School, College and University levels to reflect the wider University structure. Student Representatives and PGR Representatives will be recruited and active at each level. Students and postgraduate researchers should be fully aware of the commitment prior to taking the role, so that the SRS has no negative impact on their academic progression and study.
- 4. The Student Representation System Structure
- 4.1 The structure of the SRS conforms to the core principles outlined above. Please see Figure 1 for a diagram of the structure.

- 4.2 Student and postgraduate researcher representation at the University is formalised through School / Department level SSFs.
- 4.3 How to effectively operate an SSF is covered in the SRS Benchmarking Toolkit.
- 4.4 SSFs can operate at separate levels of study or combined (for example, there could be a separate undergraduate SSF and postgraduate taught SSF, or one combined undergraduate and postgraduate taught SSF). It may be appropriate, depending on the number of postgraduate researchers, to have a School or College level SSF for PGR Representatives.
- 4.5 These SSFs will be free to discuss topics related to education for all students, and provision for postgraduate researchers, at the University. This may include the content and quality of programmes and modules, the development of the curriculum and its delivery, assessment methods, learning and teaching methods, the provision of research skills support for postgraduates, feedback on assessed work, student support and / or supervision, learning resources, facilities, and study space, etc. (this list is not exhaustive).
- 4.6 Within the context of its legitimate discussions, the Forum must not engage in unduly personal discussion of individual staff members and individual students. The Forum must not discuss personal complaints / grievances. Should these topics arise, the Staff Liaison Contact (SLC) must inform students of the appropriate mechanisms through which to raise these issues, and arrange an alternative time to discuss them (if necessary).
- 4.7 At least twice per the academic Session Colleges will hold a College Student Rep Forum between senior School and College staff and School and College Reps, with invitation of attendance to the Guild of Students, where the common topics arising from SSFs within the College are discussed and recommendations made. Discussions and recommendations are referred to the College Education Committee to decide on the appropriate action necessary to resolve the topics raised.

- 4.8 There should be student representation on Departmental, School, and College committee(s) with responsibility for education, and postgraduate researcher representation on Departmental, School, and College committee(s) with responsibility for postgraduate research provision.
- 4.9 The tiered structure of the SRS provides a formal route for feedback, from student or postgraduate researcher, to the Department, School, College and/or University. It also provides a route for consultation and communication, from the University, to the student body. The effective facilitation of this two-way communication creates a feedback loop between students and the University.
- 4.10 It is recognised that the exact structure of student and postgraduate researcher representation will differ between individual departments and Schools so that they suit their own structures. Where the structure of a different model is proposed, this should first be agreed with the SRSAB (contact studentreps@guild.bham.ac.uk) in a timely manner, and then the approval of the College Quality Assurance and Approval Committee (CQAAC) should be sought. Minor in-session changes made to SSFs, such as a change of SLC or to administrative support staff can be approved by College Academic Policy Partners.
- 4.11 The SRSAB will keep a record of all SSFs within the University and, if there are any changes to the number and level of SSFs in the College, it is expected that CQAAC will be asked to approve the changes.
